DEFINITIONS

§ 20.3 Administrative workweek for full time employees. The administrative workweek for each group of full time employees shall be the minimum number of hours of work per week specified by the general public regulations issued by the head of a department or independent establishment pursuant to section 2 of the Act of March 14, 1936 (49 Stat. 1161, 5 U.S.C. 29a), and in accordance with applicable circulars of the Bureau of the Budget.

§ 20.4 Full time employees. Full time employees are employees who are regularly required to work, as a minimum, the number of hours in the administrative workweek specified for employees in their respective groups.

§ 20.5 Part time employees. Part time employees are employees who are regularly required to work a specified minimum number of hours per week administratively fixed in advance at less than the administrative workweek for similar employees in the same department or agency. Such employees shall be considered part time employees if they are required to work a specified minimum number of hours per week notwithstanding the fact that they do not work the same number of hours each day.

§ 20.6 Piece work and fee basis employees. Piece work and fee basis employees include all employees whose compensation is based upon other than a time period basis.

§ 20.7 Intermittent or irregular employees. Intermittent or irregular employees who are not regularly required to work a specified minimum number of hours. Employees whose work requires them to remain at, or within, the confines of their posts of duty for more than forty hours per week, but does not require that all of their time be devoted to actual work, may be considered to be intermittent or irregular employees, or in the discretion of the head of the department or agency concerned, may be considered to be full time employees having such administrative workweek as is specified by such head.

§ 20.8 Earned basic compensation. Earned basic compensation is the amount of salary actually earned by an employee, exclusive of overtime compensation or additional compensation in lieu thereof, but inclusive of any salary differential for duty outside the continental United States, including Alaska, and the value of quarters, subsistence, and other maintenance allowances under section 3 of the Act of March 5, 1928 (45 Stat. 193; 5 U.S.C. 75a).

OVERTIME WORK AND OVERTIME COMPENSATION

§ 20.9 Overtime compensation. In addition to his regular earned basic compensation, an employee shall be paid overtime compensation, computed as provided in § 20.12 of this chapter for such employment officially ordered or approved as exceeds forty hours a week: Provided, however, That heads of departments and agencies may, in their discretion, elect to grant full-time per annum employees compensatory time off from duty without loss of pay in lieu of overtime compensation for such employment as may exceed forty-eight hours in any week. In the event that compensatory time off from duty for employment in excess of forty-eight hours in any week is not granted within ninety calendar days after such employment is performed, the employee shall be entitled, in lieu of such compensatory time off to overtime compensation for such employment computed as provided in these regulations at the rate or rates of compensation which the employee received during the period of such employment.

Heads of departments and agencies may delegate to any officer or employee authority to order or approve overtime in excess of the administrative workweek and to elect to grant compensatory time off from duty without loss of pay in lieu of overtime compensation as provided in this section. No overtime in excess of the administrative workweek shall be ordered or approved except by an officer or employee to whom such authority has been specifically delegated by the head of the department or agency.

§ 20.10 Payment of overtime compensation. Overtime compensation for employment during an officially established regular workweek in excess of forty hours may be calculated on an annual basis and paid in equal amounts on the regular monthly or semi-monthly pay days.

§ 20.11 Computation of overtime work. The computation of the amount of overtime work performed by an employee shall be subject to the following conditions:

(a) Leave with pay. Absence from duty on authorized leave with pay during the time which an employee would otherwise have been required to work (including authorized absence on legal holidays and during the compensatory time off provided for in § 20.9 of this chapter) during the administrative workweek shall be considered to be employment and shall not be construed to reduce the amount of overtime compensation to which the employee is entitled during such workweek.

(b) Leave without pay. The deduction from overtime compensation for one day of leave without pay shall be 1/360 of the overtime compensation which would be paid annually for overtime employment during the administrative workweek.

In the case of an employee who receives, in lieu of overtime compensation under § 20.12 of this chapter, additional compensation at a rate of $300 per annum, the deduction from such additional compensation shall be 1/360 of $300 for each day of leave without pay.

(c) Work on holidays or Sundays. Work on holidays and Sundays shall be considered in the same manner as employment on any other calendar day in computing the amount of overtime employment under these regulations.

(d) Service subject to other overtime statutes. Overtime services for which overtime compensation is paid under any of the following statutes shall not form a basis for overtime employment under these regulations: Act of February 13, 1911, as amended (U.S.C., title 19, secs. 261 and 267) involving inspectors, store-keepers, weighers, and other customs officers and employees; Act of July 24, 1919, (41 Stat. 241; U.S.C., title 7, sec. 394) involving employees engaged in enforcement of Meat Inspection Act; Act of June 17, 1930, as amended (U.S.C., title 19, sec. 1450, 1451, and 1452) involving customs öfficers and employees; Act of March 2, 1931, (46 Stat. 1467; U.S.C., title 8, secs. 109a and 109b) involving inspectors and employees, Immigration and Naturalization Service; Act of May 27, 1936, as amended (52 Stat. 345; U.S.C., title 46, sec. 382b) involving local inspectors of steam vessels and assistants, U.S. shipping commissioners, deputies and assistants, and customs officers and employees; Act of March 23, 1941, (55 Stat. 46; U.S.C., Supp. I, title 47, sec. 154) involving certain inspectors of the Federal Communications Commission.

§ 20.12 Computation of overtime compensation. Overtime compensation shall be paid at n rate of one and one-half times the employee's regular rate of compensation computed as provided in this section: Provided, however, That when the overtime compensation for any pay period is less than a rate of $300 per annum, in lieu of such overtime compensation, there shall be paid the employee an additional amount equal to either (a) a rate of $300 per annum or (b) 25% of the employee's earned basic compensation for the pay period, whichever is less, but this proviso shall not be construed to reduce the overtime compensation to which the employee is entitled by virtue of actual overtime employment. In determining whether an employee shall be eligible for additional compensation in lieu of overtime compensation, leave without pay during any pay period shall not be construed as reducing the rate of overtime compensation.

The computation of overtime compensation shall be subject to the following conditions:

(a) Hourly rates and daily rates. For employees paid at an annual rate, the daily rate shall be considered to be 1/360 of the annual rate, and the hourly rate shall be considered to be 1/3 of the daily rate.

(b) Maximum base for computation. Overtime compensation shall be paid only upon such portion of the basic rate of compensation of an officer or employee as does not exceed $2900 per annum.

ADDITIONAL COMPENSATION IN LIEU OF OVER-TIME COMPENSATION

§ 20.13 Part time, piece work, and fee basis employees. Part time, piece work, and fee basis employees shall receive, in lieu of overtime compensation, additional compensation at a rate of 15 per centum of so much of their earned basic compensation as is not in excess of a rate of $2900 per annum.

§ 20.14 Intermittent, irregular, and other employees. Intermittent and irregular employees and, subject to the approval of the Civil Service Commission, employees whose hours of work are governed by those of private establishments which they serve and for whom, on this account, overtime work schedules are not feasible, shall be paid, in lieu of overtime compensation, additional compensation at a rate of (a) $300 per annum if their earned basic compensation is at a rate of less than $2000 per annum or (b) 15 per centum of so much of their carned basic compensation as is not in excess of a rate of $2900 if their earned basic compensation is at a rate of $2000 per annum or more, subject to the limitation in § 20.17 of this chapter.

§ 20.15 Payment of additional compensation. The annual amount of additional compensation payable to any employee in lieu of overtime compensation under these regulations may be divided by the number of regular pay days in the year and a pro rata share paid each pay day.

§ 20.16 Deduction for leave without pay. In the case of an employee who receives in lieu of overtime compensation additional compensation under § 20.14 of this chapter at a rate of $300 per annum, the deduction from such additional compensation shall be 1/360 of $300 for each day of leave without pay.

§ 20.17 Limitation on additional compensation. No additional compensation for any pay period shall be paid in lieu of overtime compensation amounting to more than 25 per centum of the earned basic compensation of the employee for such period.

TITLE 7-AGRICULTURE

Chapter VIII-War Food Administration

PART 802—SUGAR DETERMINATIONS

PUERTO RICAM SUGARCANE

MAY 12, 1943.

 Determination of fair and reasonable prices for the 1942-1943 crop of Puerto Rican sugarcane.

Whereas section 301 (d) of the Sugar Act of 1937, as amended, provides, as one of the conditions for payment to producers of sugar bests and sugarcane, as follows:

That the producer on the farm who is also, directly or indirectly, a processor of sugar beets or sugarcane, as may be determined by the Secretary, chall have paid, or contracted to pay under either purchase or toll agreements, for any sugar beets or sugarcane grown by other producers and processed by him at rates not less than those that may be determined by the Secretary to be fair and reasonable after investigation and due notice and opportunity for public hearing.

Whereas a public hearing was held at San Juan, Puerto Rico, on January 19, 1943, for the purpose of receiving evidence likely to be of assistance in the determination of fair and reasonable prices for the 1942-1943 crop of Puerto Rican sugarcane; and

Whereas the War Food Administrator is authorized, pursuant to Executive Order No. 9322, issued March 26, 1943 (8 F. R. 3807), as amended by Executive Order No. 9334, issued April 19, 1943 (8 F. R. 5423), to exercise the powers, functions, and duties of the Secretary of Agriculture under the said act:

Now, therefore, I, Chester C. Davis, War Food Administrator, after investigation and due consideration of the evidence obtained at the aforesaid hearing and all other information before me, do hereby make the following determination with respect to the requirements of section 301 (d) of the Sugar Act of 1927:

§ 802.42e Fair and reasonable prices for the 1942-1943 crop of Puerto Rican sugarcane. Fair and reasonable prices for the 1942-1943 crop of Puerto Rican sugarcane to be paid by processors who, as producers, apply for payments under the Sugar Act of 1937, as amended, shall be as follows:

(a) When payment for sugarcane delivered to a producer-processor is made by actual delivery of sugar to the producer (colono) on the basis of a stated percentage of 96° raw sugar recoverable from the producer's sugarcane, such percentage shall be not less than 63, in the case of sugarcane yielding less than 12 percent of sugar, or not less than 65, in the case of sugarcane yielding 12 percent or more of sugar, of the recoverable sugar (packed in the customary bags) determined in accordance with the formula given below, and such recoverable sugar shall be calculated fortnightly or monthly, as may be agreed upon between the producer and the producer-proc-

where: R=Recoverable sugar yield, 96° polarization. S=Polarization of the crusher juice obtained from the sugarcane of each producer. B="Brix" of the crusher juice obtained from the sugarcane of each producer.

F=Factor obtained from the fraction whose numerator is the average yield of sugar 96° polarization obtained from the aggregate grinding during each fortnight or month in which the cane of the producer is ground, and whose denominator is the average polarization of the crusher juice minus three-tenths of the Brix of the crusher juice, both components of the denominator being obtained from the aggregate grinding during the fortnight or month in which the cane of the producer has been ground:

Provided, however, That in the event a mill has been using the formula set forth below to calculate the sugar recoverable from the cane ground during the 1942-1943 crop year, such formula may be used to determine the recoverable sugar from the 1942-1943 crop of sugarcane:

where:

R-Recoverable sugar, 96° polarization. S=Polarization of the crusher juice obtained from the sugarcane of each producer, during each fortnight or month.

F=Fraction whose numerator is the average yield of sugar of 96° polarization obtained from the aggregate grinding during each fortnight or month in which the cane of the producer (colono) has been ground, and whose denominator is the average polarization of the crusher juice obtained from the aggregate grinding during the fortnight or month in which the cane of the producer (colono) has been ground.

Provided, further, That when, through the delivery of unripe or burnt cane, or through any other cause, the recoverable sugar determined in accordance with the aforesaid provisions amounts to nine pounds or less per 100 pounds of cane, or when sugarcane is delivered of the Japanese, Uba, Coinbatore, or other varieties of the Sacharum Spontaneum or Sacharum Sinensis type, the payment shall be on the basis of rates not less than those provided in the 1941-1942 cane grinding agreement between the producer-processor and the producer.

(b) When payment for sugarcane delivered to a producer-processor is made by actual delivery of sugar to the producer on the basis of an amount of 96° raw sugar equal to a stated percentage of the weight of the sugarcane received from the producer (commonly referred to as the "flat rate" basis), the appli-cable percentage for the computation of the quantity of sugar deliverable to the producer shall be not less than the product of the average number of pounds.of sugar, 96° basis, recovered per 100 pounds of sugarcane during the current crop, month, or week (as may be agreed upon). at the mill where the sugarcane was ground and .63, in the case of sugarcane yielding less than 12 percent of sugar, or .65, in the case of sugarcane yielding 12 percent or more of sugar. The figure for the average number of pounds of sugar, 96° basis, recovered per 100 pounds of sugarcane shall be rounded to the nearest one-tenth of a pound. The product of such figure and .63 or .65, whichever is applicable, shall be rounded to the nearest one-hundredth of 1 percent. If payment is to be determined from the sugar recovery for the entire crop, as aforesaid, provisional liquidation shall be made fortnightly or monthly on such bases as may be agreed upon between the producer (colono) and the producer-processor.

(c) When settlement is made in cash, the money value of the sugar which would otherwise be delivered to the producer, as in (a) or (b) above (whichever is applicable, shall be determined on the basis of the average duty paid price for 96° sugar for the fortnight or month (or such other period as may be agreed upon between the producer and the producerprocessor) during which the sugarcane is delivered to the producer-processor, converted to the equivalent f. o. b. mill price by deducting selling and delivery expenses actually incurred by the producer-processor: Provided, however, That the producer-processor shall adjust (or agree to adjust) the f. o. b. mill price, determined in the aforesaid manner, to give recognition to any reimbursement of selling and delivery expense made to the producer-processor by any government agency: And provided, further, That the producer-processor shall submit in duplicate to the San Juan office of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency a statement verified by a certified public accountant of the actual deductions incurred in determining the f. o. b. mill price.
(d) When payment is made by delivery of sugar, as in paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, the producer-processor shall (1) store and insure (or agree to store and insure) all such sugar until the end of the calendar year free of charge to the grower (except that the grower shall bear a proportionate share of any charges arising out of the necessity of utilizing outside storage facilities) and (2) share (or agree to share) with the producer, on a pro rata basis, all ocean shipping facilities available to the producer-processor.

(e) In addition to the foregoing, the following requirements shall be met:

(1) When sugarcane is delivered to a producer-processor in the name of a person other than the producer thereof (commonly referred to as "purchasing agent"), the producer-processor shall make payment to the producer of such sugarcane in accordance with the provisions of this determination.

(2) The producer-processor shall not, through any subterfuge or device whatsoever, reduce the returns from the 1942-1943 crop of Puerto Rican sugarcane to the producer below those determined above.

TITLE 32-NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter IX-War Production Board

Subchapter B-Executive Vice Chairman

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under P.D. Reg. 1, as amended, 6 F.R. 6680; W.P.B. Reg. 1, 7 F.R. 581; E.O 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9040, 7 F.R. 527; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a), Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Reg. 11B]

PREFERENCE RATINGS FOR MANUFACTURERS NOT OBTAINING PRODUCTION MATERIALS UNDER THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

§ 944.32B Priorities Regulation 11B— (a) Purpose and scope. The purpose of this regulation is to provide priorities assistance in obtaining production materials for manufacturers who do not obtain such materials under the Controlled Materials Plan. The use of this regulation in obtaining priorities assistance is optional. Persons who can get production materials without ratings should not apply for priorities assistance.

(b) Definitions. For purposes of this regulation:

(1) "Unclassified product" means any product which is neither a controlled material, a Class A product, nor a Class B product, as those terms are defined in CMP Regulation No. 1. In addition, a manufacturer of a Class A or Class B product, whose requirements of controlled materials for making it are so small that he can obtain them without placing authorized controlled material orders under the Controlled Materials Plan, may treat his product as an unclassified product and obtain priorities assistance for production materials under this regulation.

(2) "Production material" means, with respect to any person, material or products (including fabricated parts and subassemblies) which will be physically incorporated in his unclassified product, and includes the portion of such material normally consumed or converted into scrap in the course of processing. It also includes items purchased by a manufacturer for resale to round out his line if such items do not represent more than 10 percent of his total sales. The term "production material" does not include manufacturing equipment or maintenance, repair or operating supplies as defined in CMP Regulation No. 5.

(c) Applications for priorities assistance for production of unclassified products. Any person who produces unclassified products and needs priorities assistance to obtain production materials may file an application on Form PD-870. The application must not be based on a rate of production greater than that permitted under the restrictions of existing Limitation Orders or other applicable orders or regulations of the War Production Board.

(d) Holders of Form PD-870 prohibited from extending customers' ratings. A person who has received a rating or ratings on Form PD-870 for production materials for a specified product shall not extend ratings received from his customers to purchase production materials for the same product during the quarter covered by the form except that

(1) Orders calling for delivery in the same quarter which have already been rated in accordance with applicable regulations or orders of the War Production Board need not be rerated, and

(2) A rating of AAA may be extended where necessary to obtain production material actually required to fill an order rated AAA, if such material is not actually on hand, but the rating may not be extended to replace inventories.

(e) Authorized production schedules.
(1) Every assignment of rating on Form PD-870 will include authorization of a production schedule for the product for which the production materials are required. The authorization will set a maximum limit of production for the quarter.

(2) No producer who has received any rating on Form PD-870 shall produce the product covered by the form in an amount exceeding his authorized production schedule.

(3) A producer shall be deemed to exceed an authorized production schedule if his completion of finished products caceds the limits authorized, or if his rate of fabricating, assembling or otherwise processing, or acquiring raw materials or parts exceeds the practicable working minimum required to meet the authorized production schedule.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of other regulations and orders. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable regulations and orders of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this regulation, or who, in connection with this regulation, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine up to $10,000, or by imprisonment or both. In addition, such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All applications filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this regulation, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: Priorities Regulation No. 11B.

Issued this 12th day of May, 1943.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD, By J. JOSEPH WHELAN, Recording Secretary.

Section 1 Sales of stock screen goods at higher than maximum prices prohibited. (a) On and after May 17, 1943, regardless of any contract or obligation, no person shall sell or deliver, and no person shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business, any stock screen goods at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 381, and no person shall agree, offer or attempt to do any of these things.

-(b) Prices lower than the maximum prices may, of course, be charged or paid.

(c) If stock screen goods have been received before May 17, 1943, by a carrier, other than one owned or controlled by the seller, for shipment to a buyer, that shipment is not subject to this regulation, but remains subject to the regulation which covered it at the time the goods were turned over to the carrier.

Sec. 2 To what products, transactions, and persons this regulation applies—(a) Products covered by this regulation. This regulation covers, under the term "stock screen goods", all of the screen doors, combination doors, extension window screens, and knocked-down wooden screen frames of the patterns, specifications and sizes mentioned in the appendices of the regulation.

(b) Transactions covered by the regulation. This regulation covers all sales of stock screen goods, with the following exception: It does not cover direct-mill sales of combination doors which are covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 293 ¹ (Stock Millwork). This means that this regulation does not cover combination doors included in direct-mill sales of 15,000 pounds or more of stock millwork which moves by rail to one or more places, or of 12,000 pounds or more of stock millwork which moves by truck to a single place.

Where -screen goods are sold with hardware attached or are sold installed, this regulation covers the sale of the screen goods, exclusive of attachments and exclusive of services connected with either attachment or installation.

(c) Persons covered by the regulation. Any person who makes the kind of sale or purchase covered by this regulation is subject to the regulation. The term "person" includes: an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or their legal successors, or representatives; the United States, or any government, or any of its political subdivisions; or any agency of the foregoing.

SEC. 3 Maximum prices—(a) Kinds of sales. This regulation divides all sales of stock screen goods into two general groups, sales to distributors and sales to consumers.

(1) "Sales to distributors" include sales to jobbers, retailers, and all other persons who purchase to resell. Sales to distributors are divided into the following two kinds:

(i) Sales to jobbers and special dealers. A jobber is any distributor who in 1942 made 20 percent or more, by dollar volume, of his screen goods sales to other distributors. A special dealer is any distributor, other than a jobber, who in 1942 received from the seller a discount of 20 percent or more off the seller's then prevailing list price.

(ii) Sales to regular dealers. A regular dealer is any distributor who is not a jobber or special dealer.

(2) "Sales to consumers" include sales to users and to persons who purchase to install for use. Sales to consumers are divided into the following three kinds:

(i) Direct factory sales to consumers, which are sales to consumers in which stock screen goods are shipped to a purchaser directly from a factory in a full or distribution car. A distribution (or pool) car is a carload of screen goods or other millwork shipped on orders of two or more buyers, and distributed to these individual buyers, or to another common carrier for the account of such a buyer, at a delivery (distribution) point or points specified by the buyers.

(ii) Retail sales, which are sales to consumers in which shipment to the purchaser is not made in a full or distribution car originating at a factory. Such cales may be out of the stock of a warehouse maintained in connection with a factory, out of a jobber warehouse, or out of the stocks of a retail dealer. A sale to a distributor or a mail-order sale is not a retail sale.

(iii) Mail-order sales, which are sales to consumers by the mail-order department of a mail-order company or of a retail establishment, in which shipment to the purchaser is not made in a full or distribution car.

(b) Maximum prices. The maximum prices for stock screen goods shall be the prices arrived at by applying the following percentage addition or deduction for the specified species and products to the list prices in the appendices (adjusted for "list extras" and "list deductions").

(c) Definition of full bundle and broken bundle. § (1) "A full bundle," for the purposes of this regulation, is the quantity of screen goods of a size and kind, which quantity is specified in the description of the product in the appropriate price table in the appendices as the quantity per bundle, carton, or crate.

(2) "A broken bundle" is a quantity of screen goods of a size and kind which is less than a full bundle.

Sec. 4 Additions for transportation and delivery—(a) What charges for transportation and delivery may be added to the maximum prices. (1) In sales to distributors, when shipment originates at a factory or factory warehouse, and in direct factory sales to consumers, the seller may add the actual charge or cost paid or incurred by him in making shipment from the factory to the purchaser, but he must allow freight (and freight tax) at the carload rail rate from factory to destination (or to point of distribution in the case of distribution cars)

(2) In sales to distributors, when the shipment originates at any place other than a factory or factory warehouse, and in retail sales, the seller cannot charge for delivery within the free delivery zones recognized by him during March 1942. For delivery outside of these free delivery zones, the seller may add the actual charge or cost paid or incurred by him in making shipment from his establishment to the purchaser.

(3) In mail-order sales, the seller may add the actual charge or cost paid or incurred by him in making shipment from the loading (or shipping) point to the place of delivery designated by the purchaser.

(b) How to figure the actual charge or cost paid or incurred by the seller. (1) When shipment is by common or contract carrier, the actual charge is the amount paid to the carrier.

(2) When shipment is by truck owned or controlled by the seller, the cost which the seller figures cannot be higher than the over-all average trucking cost for a similar delivery, arrived at as of the sixmonth period ending September 1, 1942.

Sec. 5 Invoicing requirements—(a) When an invoice must be rendered. An invoice must be rendered in all sales. In mail-order sales and retail sales, a sales slip may be considered an invoice.

(b) What the invoice must contain-(1) Description of product. All invoices must contain a sufficiently complete description of screen goods to show whether the price is proper or not. Any specification or extra which affects the maximum price must be mentioned in the description. The amount added for extras does not have to be separately shown.

(2) Type of sale. The invoice must show whether the sale is a sale to a jobber or special dealer, a sale to a regular dealer, a direct factory sale to consumer, a mail-order sale, or a retail sale.

(3) Transportation and delivery charges. The invoice must show any charge which the seller has made for transportation or delivery. If a charge has been made, the invoice must contain the: (i) point of origin of the shipment; (ii) -destination; (iii) rail or truck rate (or, if delivery is by private truck, the amount added for transportation).

(4) Freight allowance. In those cases where carload freight must be allowed, the invoice must show the rate of freight allowed.

Prohibited practices—(a) In general. Any practice which is a device to get the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the dollars-and-cents price is as much a violation of this regulation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying agreements, trade understandings and the

(b) Specific prohibited practices. The following are among the specific practices prohibited:

- (1) Getting the effect of a higher price by changing credit practices or cash discounts from what they were on October 1, 1941. This includes reducing the cash discount period, decreasing credit periods, or making greater charges for extension of credit. In all cases, if the sale is on cash terms, the maximum price must be reduced by the same amount as the sale price would have been reduced for similar cash terms on October 1, 1941. For example, if the maximum price without cash discount is $10.00, and if in sales of this item on October 1, 1941, to purchasers of a certain class the seller reduced sales prices 2 percent for cash within 10 days, the ceiling cash price in sales to purchasers of this class is $9.80. For purposes of this paragraph, no discount over 2 percent is considered a cash discount.
- (2) Unnecessarily routing screen goods through the stocks of a jobber warehouse or retail dealer.
- (c) Service commissions. It is unlawful for any person to charge or receive from a buying plant, or for a buying plant to pay a commission for the service of procuring, buying, selling or locating stock screen goods, or for any related service (such as "expediting") which does not involve actual physical handling of the goods, if the commission plus the purchase price results in a total payment by the buyer which is higher than the maximum price of the screen goods. For purposes of this regulation, a commission is any service charge or payment which is figured either directly or indirectly on the basis of the quantity, price or value of the screen goods in connection with which the service is performed.

(d) Adjustable pricing. A price may be made adjustable to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. It may not be made adjustable to a maximum price in effect later than the date of delivery, except by special authorization. The Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., may issue this authorization, by letter, telegram or general order, when an amendment to this regulation is pending, as the result either of a petition for amendment or of a formal industry advisory committee recommendation.

SEC. 7 Records. Sellers must keep records which will show a complete description of the items of stock screen goods sold, the name and address of the buyer (except in retail sales), the date of the sale and the price. Buyers must keep similar records, including the name and address of the seller (except in retail sales). These records must be kept for two years, covering any month in which the seller or buyer sold or bought $200 or more of stock screen goods.

Sec. 8 Applications for adjustment and petitions for amendment—(a) Government contracts. (1) The term "gov-ernment contracts" is here used to include any contract with the United States or any of its agencies, or with the government or any governmental agency of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States". It also includes any subcontract under this kind of contract.

(2) Any person who has made or intends to make a "government contract" and who thinks that a maximum price established in this regulation is impeding or threatens to impede production of stock screen goods which are essential to the war program and which are or will be the subject of the contract, may file an application for adjustment in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 6,3 issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,3 issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 9 Enforcement and licenses. (a) Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 381 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for suspension of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

(b) War Procurement Agencies and their contracting or paying finance officers are not subject to any liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this regulation, Persons who make sales covered by this regulation to War Procurement Agencies are, however, subject to all the liabilities imposed by this regulation. "War Procurement Agencies" include the War Department, the Navy Department, the United States Maritime Commission, and Lend-Lease Section in the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, or any of their agencies.

(c) All sellers under this regulation, except mills (factories), are licensed by Supplementary Order 18. This order, in brief, provides that a license is necessary, except for mills, to make sales under this regulation. A license is automatically granted to all sellers making these sales. It is not necessary to apply specially for the license but a registration may later be required. The Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 and Supplementary Order 18 tell the circumstances under which licenses may be suspended. The license cannot be transferred.
